WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Healthcare professionals involved in organ donation and transplantation strive for excellence at all levels. The combined expertise and the sharing of best practices of a dedicated multidisciplinary healthcare team ensures optimal care across the lifespan.

This workshop offers both healthcare professionals and allied healthcare professionals, with all levels of expertise, an opportunity to expand their knowledge, debate best practices, discuss challenges and improve competencies. In addition, the workshop will provide a forum for networking with colleagues and exhibitors in a collegial atmosphere.

PURPOSE

The overall goals of this workshop are to create excellence in clinical practice, education and research throughout the transplant process, while recognizing unique needs of both adult and pediatric patients and their families. Meeting the needs of pediatric transplantation patients can be significantly different than those of adults. Transitioning from childhood to adulthood poses many challenges along the way. This workshop will highlight interdisciplinary team collaboration which paves the way towards the care and management of patients of all ages before, during and after transplantation.

COURSE FORMAT

This full two and a half day workshop will consist of two tracks, pediatric and adult. The format for this workshop will consist of general lectures and concurrent sessions. A variety of presentations regarding the care of the pediatric and adult transplant patient will be presented by expert faculty.

AFTER COMPLETION OF THIS WORKSHOP, THE PARTICIPANT SHOULD BE ABLE TO:

- (1) Discuss current challenges encountered when caring for adult and/or pediatric organ transplant recipients and their families in healthcare settings.
- (2) Evaluate key lifespan transitions for pediatric and/or adult organ transplant recipients and their families.
- (3) Analyze best nursing practices utilized to care for adult and pediatric organ transplant recipients and their families in various healthcare delivery settings.

ITNS Winter Workshop February 17 - 19, 2012

WORKSHOP VENUE

Atlanta is a world class modern city and boasts a rich passionate history. Often called the city of the progressive New South, Atlanta has beautifully maintained the Old South architectural characteristics. Also called the “city of trees,” Atlanta is surprisingly full with magnolias, dogwoods and southern pines. A lush tree canopy and a perpetually mild climate encourages year round outdoor activity.

Recently named one of the top five American cities, Atlanta is well known for its cultural offerings including the High Museum of Art, Jimmy Carter Presidential Library, Atlanta History Center, Martin Luther King Historic site and the Margaret Mitchell House and Museum and attractions such as the World of Coke, the Atlanta Botanical Center, Centennial Olympic Park, City Center, CNN Center, ESPN Zone and the world famous Georgia Aquarium.

Eclectic neighborhoods with flair fill Atlanta and offer something for everyone. Little Five Points is Atlanta’s bohemian hangout and home to a rich mix of art, theater & shopping. Virginia Highland features hip boutiques. East Atlanta Village is filled with homegrown restaurants and gastro pubs. The historic district of Cabbage town boasts impressive architectural restorations. Decatur Square is a charming unique neighborhood six miles east of downtown, friendly walkable and right on the MARTA (Atlanta’s rail transit system) line with over 200 boutiques, restaurants and galleries.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS

ITNS has applied to ABTC for providership and certified nursing approval of CEPTC credits for certified transplant nursing and coordinators who attend this Winter Workshop. An application has also been submitted to the Ohio Nurses Association for general nursing CE credits. Typically, one hour of education = 1 CE unit, however, the exact number of credits awarded will not be known until closer to the workshop. International attendees will receive a Certificate of Attendance.

REGISTRATION

Due to the topics covered in this Winter Workshop, we are expecting a good audience. Please register early. The registration deadline is February 1, 2012. After the deadline date, please call for space availability +1 412-343-4867.
